

Northumberland ICT Conference

The Village Hotel - 22nd March 2019

Join us for coffee from 9am for a chance to try out our VR headsets, chat to our local CodeClub expert, and meet our School360 developer to ask any questions or even make suggestions for the platform! The team will be on hand to discuss how we can support your plans and projects in the coming months. We will then begin with a Keynote at 9.30am before splitting into three smaller seminar groups to rotate through each of the sessions.

A Tale Unfolds

Keynote: Dominic Traynor.

Former primary school teacher, Dominic started LitFilmFest in 2016 which partners with organisations like Houses Of Parliament, the British Film Institute, YouTube Kids and Change.org. Its goal is to empower primary pupils to shape their future through collaborative writing and video projects linked to the National Curriculum for English. He has trained over 10,000 primary teachers on combining traditional literacy and digital skills through his education social enterprise, A Tale Unfolds. In a research project with UCL Institute Of Education, this traditional plus digital approach improved literacy by 3.75 times the average rate of progress.

Seminar 1

Dominic will talk about how to tackle relevant and exciting global issues that appeal to students and how this can be instrumental in engaging your pupils and raising standards in the classroom.

We are very excited to announce that we will be running the Northumberland LitFilmFest with help from Dominic, hear all about it and how to get involved!

Seminar 2

In Seminar 2 we will explore a selection of hands on computing activities. We will show you how computing and game design can form the basis of a cross curricular project to really engage your pupils and provide a stimulus for 'real world' english and mathematics activities.

Seminar 3

David Olatunji, founder of Music Hands, is presenting our third session. Music Hands specialise in teaching Music creatively with the iPad.

David will talk you through various aspects of using the iPad to teach music, provide a demo of some of his recommended apps and demonstrate simple activities you can take away and try in your own classroom - even if you only have access to a single iPad.

You will be tutored through some of the activities from iPad Orchestra Vol 1 and then given a complimentary copy to take away so that you can get started straight away in your own school!

Northumberland ICT SLA schools £95

Non SLA schools £195

Further bookings from the same school are half price. The conference rate includes lunch and refreshments.
